‘Better Off Ted’

Satire, they say, is what closes on Saturday night, but this sharp, funny new sitcom lights up Wednesdays with the misadventures of Ted (Jay Harrington, front), a nice guy thrust into dubious assignments by his overlords at Veridian Dynamics. 8:30 p.m. 7 10

Q&A

Q: I cannot believe that "The Shield" hasn't come back. Please tell me Michael Chiklis and his crew will be back.

A: It won't. Long before the FX police drama's last round began, it was made known that it indeed would be the last season.

Q: On the program "Las Vegas," how was the appearance of A.J. Cooper in the last episode explained after he died in a plane crash?

A: Evidently we will never know, though we likely would have found out if the show had continued. Three episodes scheduled for production were never filmed.

Tom Selleck, who played Cooper, had hoped for a movie to tie up loose ends, but that doesn't appear to be in the cards.

Q: I have the first two seasons of "The Fugitive" on DVD. Are more coming?

A: Actually, you don't have all of the second season. The second volume of that year's episodes doesn't hit the stores until March 31, and it's hard to predict how soon subsequent releases will come.

Q: I would like to know why we are getting so many reruns in the middle of winter. In the summer, you expect it, but winter?

A: A giant reason is this year's move of the traditional ratings-important February "sweeps" period to March because of what had been the slated February transition to digital television. (The date has been moved to June, but some stations went ahead and stopped their analog broadcasts last month anyway.) You may have noticed that March is offering more first-run series episodes than usual; in 2010, the winter television schedule pattern should be back to normal.

Q: Is the creator of "Malcolm in the Middle," Linwood Boomer, the same man who played Adam Kendall on "Little House on the Prairie"?

A: Yes, he is.

Q: I have been a sci-fi fan for as long as I can remember. I saw the original "The War of the Worlds" with Gene Barry, and I saw the remake with C. Thomas Howell. In the past few years, I have seen in TV listings a version starring Tom Cruise; every time I see it scheduled, I tune in, and the C. Thomas Howell version comes on. Then I recently saw a newspaper interview in which Dakota Fanning said how much she enjoyed making "The War of the Worlds" with Tom Cruise. Did he really make a version of it?

A: He certainly did, with Steven Spielberg directing, and it was one of the big box-office hits of 2005. Fanning played Cruise's daughter in the update, which also featured Tim Robbins and — in cameo roles — Gene Barry and his leading lady from the original 1953 version, Ann Robinson.

The C. Thomas Howell edition was a direct-to-video release issued around the same time as the Cruise movie opened in theaters, in the obvious hope of cashing in on the version that had the much-bigger budget. ABC currently holds the rights to air the Cruise movie; last year, it was broadcast in both February and August. It's also been available on home video for the past several years.

The identity of the featured celebrity is found within the answers in the puzzle. In order to take the TV Challenge, unscramble the letters noted with asterisks within the puzzle.
